PHARMACISTS

The Heelth Restorers of Nebraska Meet to Discuss Important Questions.

WELCOMED BY MAYOR CUSHING.

Bynopsis of President Goodwin's Annual Address-The Prohibitory Law and Sunday Closing-Members in Attendance.

The session of the State Pharmaceutical association opened at Washington hall at 3 o'clock vesterday afternoon with about one hundred and twenty-five members in attend-

It was called to order by C. F. Goodman, president of the association. C. J. Daubach, the energetic secretary of the association, was on hand and filled his position with his usual ability:

The Rev. W. A. Lipe invoked the divine blessing upon the gathering and prayed that no misfortune befall the members while they were absent from their families.

President Goodman introduced Mayor Cush-Ing, who remarked that it was a wise precaution to be prayed for before his speech. He said he knew very little about medicine, as he "always took his straight." Following these introductory remarks, the mayor spoke

"It affords me pleasure as the representative and chief magistrate of the city of Omaha, the metropolis of the Missouri valley, to welcome you to our city. You have done wisely to select this place for your conven-

"In selecting Omaha as a place of meeting you have performed a duty not only to Omaha, your commercial metropolis, but to yourselves as well, for just in proportion as the center is recognized and developed is it of benefit to the region tributary, not only as a place in which to sell and buy, but as a source of new methods and ideas which are first put to the test here. And I trust that our Omaha druggists are so alive to their own and the community's interests that you will find the newest and best methods, as well as the newest and best supplies.

'Chemistry, the science with which you deal, is the basis of all science and all discovery. The very life we live depends upon themical change, the very air we breathe, the water we drink and the food we sat are water we drink, and the food we cut, are compounds, the nature of which chemistry only can unfold to us. In this day of rapid progress it is safe to say that the science of chemistry is in the van. Indeed, chemistry goes before and "blazes the way," so to speak. It is an ever widening and deepening

"Turning to your especial work as druggistchemists, for you cannot be competent as druggists without a fair knowledge of chemistry, one is at first confronted with your great responsibility. You hold the lives of the people in your hands. What a stimulus is this to sobriety, to honesty and to carefulness. It is well that the state has provided laws to limit your numbers to those who can demonstrate their fitness and trustworthiness.

"I am informed that your gathering is to be not only for the discussion of subjects pertient to your calling, but a sort of exposition

"The late Paris exposition was said to be one not merely of things, but of ideas illus-trated by things. This great example is one worthy to be followed and I trust and believe that it will so characterize your meeting that you may each return to your homes not only better supplied with the articles which your customers need, but equipped with the new-est and most progressive ideas of your pro-fession and the subjects discussed at this meeting will result in a mutual benefit to each of you and thereby to your patrons. "Again allow me to bid you welcome and cordial welcome to Omaha. There is no class of business men who have so few hours off of business men who have so few hours off duty as druggists. I don't suppose there is a man here who averages less than sixteen or eighteen hours per day. It is very pleasant, therefore, for us to have a few days of recreation, and it is doubly pleasant to have such a hearty welcome accorded us."

At the conclusion of Mr. Reed's remarks Secretary Daubach said that he had been requested to present to the association, on behalf of Mr. Reed, a handsome gavel—something which the association had never owned. It was to be the property of the association and be handed down from president to presi-

The gavel was a very handsome one of osage orange wood, with a silver band around it, on which were engraved the letters, N. S.

President Goodman then read his annual address to the association. It contained many matters concerning the routine busi-ness of the body and also contained several The following are extracts from the address on the important matters

Not the least among the motives that bring us together in these annual meetings, is the anticipated pleasure of renewing old friendships and forming new ones, and while I extend to you all a cordial greeting on this our ninth annual convention, I trust that cach and every member in attendance will do he's part, to help make this the most pleasant, interesting and instructive session of the Ne-brasia State Pharmaceutical association we have had since our organization.

"According to the constitution, it is the duty of the president to present, at the annual meeting, a report of the operations of this association, and to suggest such subjects as he may deem worthy of notice." The president then suggested that the name "pharmaceutical" might be more prop-

erry changed to "pharmacopolist," meaning "one who sells modicines," as the main object of the druggist was to acquire a competence instead of endeavoring to perfect himself in

The fact that there are very few papers read at the annual meetings of the associa-tion also came in for a share of the president's attention. He said the members usually gave more time to having a good time instead of trying to increase their knowledge of the best way of conducting a pharmacy. The members should use every endeavor to bring the association up to the highest standard, and also to bring into the ranks every phar-macist in the state.

The habit which some physicians have, of prescribing all the new forms of drugs which are patented, and which are upon the market but a short time before they are succeeded by others, was deprecated and drug-

Rists were advised to "go slow" on stocking up with these new preparations.

The Sunday question was touched upon as follows: "In the larger cities of this state the drug stores are open all day Sunday, and I believe that if the druggists would come to an understanding about this section." understanding about this matter, it would be far better to have them open only at stated times on Sunday, say two hours in the fore noon and two hours in the afternoon, and then our clerks would have some time they could call their own. The bulk of the Sunday trade is for cigars and soda water, and believing that Sunday was made for rest, 1 refer to this matter here, with the hope that many of you will restrict your hours of Sunday work."

hours of Sunday work."

Another paragraph was as follows: "In November next a question of importance is to be voted on in this state, which must be of interest to every member of this association—that of probibition of the liquor traffic—and while there may be differences of opinion on this subject, yet I believe the majority of this association are for high liceuse, for, judging from the reports from the states of lows and Kansas, the logitimate drug trade has suffered from the prohibitory law, and in order that we may be consistent I would recommend that we consistent I would recommend that we follow the example of our Denver brethren by resolving 'That all druggists, members of Sunday in any way, excepting on the pre-scription of a regular practicing physician, and if such a resolution is passed, I trust it will be strictly lived up to by all the druggists of the state of Nebraska. We have now 1,275 registered pharmacists in good glanding in the state.<sup>17</sup> dress was concluded it was referred to a committee consisting of Mesers, N. A. Kuhn, A. J. Seykora and A. B. Hunt, for action upon the uggestions contained.

Mr. C. F. Weller of the Richardson Drug company made a brief speech, in which he assured those present that the national association, of which he was a member, was in hearty sympathy with the state association and depended upon it for keeping up an in-terest in the work.

At the suggestion of the secretary a committee was appointed to prepare and forward telegrams and communications to other state associations which might be in session at the associations which might be in section at the same time as the Nebraska body. The chair appointed Messrs. H. T. Clarke, C. F. Weller and James Forsyth as such committee. A committee on resolutions was appointed, consisting of Messrs. A. B. Hunt, Heary D.

Boyden and M. Parr.

The meeting then adjourned to meet at 10 a. m. today at which time the report of the state board of examiners will be made the special order.

The members in attendance were provided with a neat pin, consisting of a spatnia about three inches long with the letters "N. S. P. A." on the handle, and "Omaha, 1890" on the of the Board of Public Works. A gentleman whom a Bee reporter met in the court house yesterday, and who occupies a position particularly favorable for knowing whereof he speaks, said with peculiar emphasis:

"The mayor has decided to appoint Birkhauser chairman of the board of public works and Frank Morrissey garbage inspector. His decision is the result of a certain compromise effected, or rather dictated, by the solid twenty-eight. That's all I can tell you about the matter."

The reporter then headed for the mayor's office. That gentleman confirmed the report, saving, however, that the nominations would not be sent to the council for some time to

Mr Birkhauser is a real estate agent and has been in Omaha about five years. He came here from Falls City in Richardson county, where he had resided for twelve or fifteen years previous. He is a druggist by trade and before removing to Omaha was a grain dealer. He has always been an active politician. He started out in politics as a republican, because a someout resource for later on he came a rampont greenbacker, later on he declared himself an independent. Then he blossomed out as an anti-monopolist and finally went clean over to the demo-crats. He served two terms in the state legislature, and has always been a standing candidate for something. Since his advent to Omaha he has been identified with the Vandervoort-Broatch Tammany with the Vandervoort-Broatch Tammany combine and through his partner, Councilmrn Blumer, he has worked Mayor Cushing for everything in sight. He has almost invariably been appointed as an appraiser whenever there was any grading done. Although he has no claims upon the democracy of Omaha and does not possess any of the qualifications requisite for the supervision of pub. fications requisite for the supervision of pub-lic works, he has pushed himself to the front through his allies of the Twenty-eight club tor the biggest thing in his gift. By getting him appointed the combine feels assured of a man willing to do anything-politically and otherwise-that may subserve the ends of the

Another object in view is to get him out Another object in view is to get him out of the way of Chaffee in the Seventh ward this fall. As we said before, Birkhauser is a standing candidate, and was talking of running for the council from the Seventh ward next fall although his partner is already in the council. Now he will be in position to turn in with the con-tractors to help. Chaffee. It is all the same whether a man is a republican or a democrat, so long as he trains with Broatch and his twenty-eight.

FLYING SWITCH TO ETERNITY

Made With Snicidal Intent Yesterday Morning by Fred Williams.

NO CAUSE ASSIGNED FOR THE DEED.

He Bids Wife and Baby an Affectionate Goodbye and Then Speeds a Bullet Into His Disturbed Brain.

Fred Williams, night switchman at the Union Pacific yards, attempted suicide at 8:15 yesterday morning at his house at Eighth and Center streets.

He drove home after his night's work, as usual, shortly before 8 o'clock, and, tying his horse in the yard, carried a cake of ice from the cart to an ice-chest in the kitchen. His wife, who was busy preparing breakfast, no ticed something wrong and said:

"Why. Fred, what is the matter with you You have been drinking." "You're right, Jennie, I have, and I have the report of a pistol and sprang into the room to find her husband lying across the bed, his face and clothes covered with blood from a ghastly wound in the forehead, made with a smoking revolver which was still grasped in his right hand.

The screams of the distracted woman at-bacted the attention of the neighbors, who flocked to the scene of the shooting. In a few minutes the police and, later, Dr. Galbraith, the Union Pacific physician, were on hand. Nothing could be done to save the unfortunate man's life. The wound was fatal and only relief from pain could be afforded.

The 44-calibre bullet had sent a large sec question of a few hours and that he would never regain consciousness. No one can advance a plausible theory for Williams is spoken of by his neighbors and many friends and acquaintances as a steady worker, a good husband and one doing comparatively well in the world. He has been living with his father, wife and child in a comfortable rented house, and had no debts pressing him, but was addicted to the occaional use of liquor.

The Trial of the Alleged Murderers to Commence Today.

Today the trial of E. D. Neal, alias J. D. Katon, alias J. D. Livingston, for the alleged murder of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Jones on the Pinney farm on or about February 4 last, will commence in the district court. This will probably be the most remarkable murder trial in the annals of the county. The state will be represented by County Attorney Maioney and the defendant by Messrs. Gurley and Estelle.

This is perhaps the second case in the his-tory of this county in which it is sought to find the perpetrator of a killing which was unquestionably committed in cold blood and with premeditation. The crime is the more ous because the victims were old and helpiess.

The trial will continue probably ten days

United States Court and Jury.

The United States grand jury convened yes terday morning with but seventeen of the memoers present. Attorney Baker addressed them in a very able manner and was listened to by the large number of lawyers present with great interest.

There will be about forty cases presented to them. Many of the old cases were dismissed by ex-United States Attorney Pritchett before his retirement.

The prisoners now before the grand jury are: J. B. Miller, for stealing registered letters; J. J. Truman of Genoa, embezzle-ment; John Conroy and Frank Mallory, attempt to rob a government warehouse. Mark Houber, attempting to pass counter feit money; Gather, Coates and Kress, for the seduction of Laura Zeigler. There are a number of other offenders who have not yet seen apprehended, but the authorities expect o get them in a few days.

KISSED ANOTHER MAN'S WIFE.

- "You secundred," yelled young Jacob Green At his good neighbor, Brown,— "You kissed my wife upon the street,— I ought to knock you down."
- "That's where you're wrong," good Brown replied, In accents mild and meek; "I sussed her; that I've not denied, But I kissed her on the cheek—and I did it because she looked so hand- wrapper and faithfully carried out for health. What is the secret of it?"

"Well," replied Green, "since you ask it, I will tell you; she uses Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I accept your apology.

Good night."
